

This plot shows or describes the overall scatterplot of the whole dataset which provides that the whole dataset is equally spread not just accumulated at a point which will be highly dangerous for taking insights from it.

This plot gives an idea about which category is making highest sales and profit which is technology as per the given graph.

This graph shows which city of USA is making the most orders and generating maximum revenue which is Washington DC.

This bar graph shows that most people like to place order via Standard class over the other cases.